Re: Cisco Systems, Inc. v. Arista Networks, Inc., Case No. 5:14-cv-5344-BLF (PSG)

Dear Counsel:

I write in response to your June 28, 2016 letter regarding Cisco's First and Second Supplemental Privilege Logs ("privilege logs").

As an initial matter, Cisco disagrees with your contention that there is anything deficient with its privilege logs. Cisco's privilege logs provide the same level of detail as Arista's redaction and privilege logs, which Arista no doubt believes to be sufficient. Nevertheless, in the interest of avoiding unnecessarily burdening the Court, Cisco is willing to provide certain compromises, as detailed below and in Appendix A attached hereto. In making certain compromises, however, Cisco neither concedes that its privilege logs are deficient nor does it waive any attorney-client privilege or work product protection (whether specific to a particular document or specific to a subject matter) in making the compromises set forth below and in Appendix A. Cisco has endeavored to respond to each of the more than 200 logs entries identified in your June 28, 2016 letter corresponding to the "categories" that you set forth in that letter.

In addition, Cisco has identified various issues with Arista's redaction and privilege logs that are laid out below.

Cisco's Responses to Arista's Privilege Log Categories

"Unknown Author" Log Entries

Cisco has provided responses to the log entries corresponding to this category in Appendix A, which is attached to this letter.

"Emails to Clueless" Log Entries

Cisco has provided responses to the log entries corresponding to this category in Appendix A, which is attached to this letter.

"Giancarlo Communications"

We disagree with your contention that Cisco has put Mr. Giancarlo's state of mind at issue regarding the Huawei litigation or that Cisco has "selectively waived privilege." Cisco's counsel made it clear on the record at Mr. Giancarlo's deposition on numerous occasions that Mr. Giancarlo was not to disclose any Cisco privileged or work product information. And Cisco's counsel also made it clear to Mr. Giancarlo at his deposition that when asking questions he was not seeking any such information. For example:

21 And again, just because -- because the timing
22 has changed since the last time I asked you about the
23 investigation, I intend to be asking only for information
24 which you know that is not attorney-client privileged or
25 doesn't disclose attorney work product.
1 I say that to you now because we have moved in
2 time a couple of months.
3 A I understand.
4 Q You mentioned, Mr. Scheinman was involved. So
5 if, for example, by this point in time you were working
6 with legal, and you're less clear on whether the analysis
7 and investigation was driven by or reflective of attorney
8 input, then I would invite to you stop and re- -- just to
9 make sure --
10 A Yeah.
11 Q -- that it's not privileged or work product?
12 A I will do the best I can.
13 Q Okay. So to the extent you can answer my
14 question --
15 A Yes.
16 Q -- while being confident you're not disclosing
17 Cisco or attorney work product privileged materials,
18 let's try to do that.

Eduardo E. Santacana

Giancarlo Tr. at 65:21-66:18.

17 A I just said, I'm not in charge of legal
18 strategy.
19 Q I don't want you to go down that road.
20 A I'm very clear. I'm not going down that road
21 other than to say, I was not in charge of legal strategy.

Id. 124:17-21

17 I think today is a fairly gentlemanly day if
18 this witness, in response to a question you like or don't
19 like, if he starts indicating he is going down to work
20 that has privileged and work product implications,
21 because he used to be a Cisco executive involved with
22 legal, I will interrupt him. If he starts going down a
23 road that indicates Arista privilege, I take it you will
24 interrupt him. There's nothing improper about that.
25 You may not like how this witness is testifying
1 right now, but it doesn't mean my giving him an
2 instruction or warning on privilege, there's anything
3 improper about that.

Id. at 125:17-126:3.

Arista's counsel even confirmed on the record that he understood that no such waiver was being sought during the deposition:

12 BY MR. FERRALL:
13 Q And let me just say for both your sake,
14 Mr. Giancarlo, and Mr. Neukom's sake, I take Mr. Neukom
15 at his word that he doesn't intend to waive any Cisco
16 privilege. And so I'm going to ask some questions that
17 may well touch upon privilege, so I want to make sure
18 that you give Mr. Neukom a chance to understand the --
19 and instruct you, if necessary.
20 I'm going to instruct you also not to reveal
21 privileged information, but also give Mr. Neukom a chance
22 before you answer these questions, okay, because I don't
23 want any inadvertent --
24 A I will wait for Mr. Neukom to give me the 25 heads-up to -- I will wait after each question for you to

Eduardo E. Santacana
July 15, 2016

1 indicate what you want me to do.
2 MR. NEUKOM: Thank you. I appreciate that.
3 You know, one aspect here is, of course, I was
4 not a lawyer for Cisco back in the day.
5 THE WITNESS: Uh-huh.
6 MR. NEUKOM: So there may be questions that
7 implicate privilege or work product, even though it's not
8 apparent to me on the face of the question. So simply 9 because I do not object, I'm going to try to be curious,
10 Mr. Farrell, and not make placeholder objections in
11 response to every question.

Id. at 155:12-156:11.

16 Q Without revealing any attorney-client
17 information or communications or work product, are you
18 able to explain why Cisco asserted claims against Huawei
19 that reference the CLI in this litigation?
20 Is it possible for to you answer that question
21 without revealing privileged or attorney work product?
22 MR. NEUKOM: I'm going to object on privilege
23 and work product basis.
24 I have a very, very hard time imagining a world
25 in which a nonlawyer engineer with an MBA has an
1 understanding of rationales to or to not bring certain
2 claims.
3 But if I'm wrong, if you have some nonprivileged
4 basis on which to answer Mr. Ferrall's question, you
5 should do that.
6 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I can't answer the question.

Id. at 157:16-158:6.

These are just a few examples and are not meant to be exhaustive. But they nevertheless illustrate that there has not been any waiver and that Arista's counsel during the deposition understood that and agreed to it.

With respect to your "waiver" claim based on CSI-CLI-06498058, as you know, that document was inadvertently produced and Cisco has since clawed it back pursuant to the protective order in this case. See July 7, 2016 Correspondence from D. Holmes to Counsel for Arista. Accordingly, there has been no waiver, and Cisco will not be producing the documents identified in your letter relating to Mr. Giancarlo.

Eduardo E. Santacana

“Presence of Third Parties” Log Entries

Without waiving any privilege or work product specific to any document or subject matter, in the interest of compromise Cisco will produce log entries numbered 3704, 5390, 5391, 5394, and 6113.

“Claims of Privilege Where No Attorney Is Present and Improper Redactions” Log Entries

Cisco has provided responses to the log entries corresponding to this category in Appendix A, which is attached to this letter.

Arista’s Redaction & Privilege Logs

There are many documents on Arista’s Redaction Log, Vol. 1 where no attorney is listed/present, and it therefore does not appear that Arista’s privilege claim is justified. For example:

- Entry 19 on page 1 is a redacted presentation titled, “Arista Software Driven Cloud Networking,” and appears to be directed at potential investors (i.e., third parties): “[b]efore you invest, you should read the prospectus in the registration statement and other documents we file with the SEC.” ARISTANDCA12998828.
- Entry 13 on page 4 is a redacted presentation entitled, “Special Board Meeting.” ARISTANDCA13382199.
- Entry 19 on page 5 is a redacted email about a “leadership meeting.” At pages ARISTANDCA13382622 and ARISTANDCA13382623 there are redactions that appear to be relating to manufacturing.
- The last entry on page 18 also is a redacted email about a “leadership meeting.” There are redactions at pages ARISTANDCA13385771, ARISTANDCA13385774, ARISTANDCA13385776, ARISTANDCA13385778, and ARISTANDCA13385779 that do not appear to be related to legal advice, but rather Optumsoft, manufacturing, and the stock exchange. ARISTANDCA13385770.
- The last entry on page 20 is a redacted email about pricing without any attorneys present; it is impossible for Cisco to understand the basis for Arista’s redaction. ARISTANDCA13601796 .

These are just a few examples and are in no way exhaustive. We have identified similar issues with at least the following log entries:
